Soulistic Group Herz with Turnkey Logistics Victory for Major Food Industry Client

Cargo Connections members in Mexico, Soulistic Group Herz are pleased to share a recent challenging logistics project, moving industrial machinery for a major food industry client.

Luis Argüello at Soulistic Group Herz explains;

“In close coordination with our sister company, Fisch & Fisch Mexico, we thrive on overcoming logistical challenges that demand precision, coordination, and specialized expertise. We recently secured a major project through a competitive tender process for one of our main clients in the food industry, which perfectly illustrates our capability in managing complex, oversized freight operations across international borders. This case study highlights how our integrated approach ensured the successful and timely ground transportation of specialized industrial machinery.

The decisive factor in winning this assignment was our turn-key offer. Our comprehensive proposal eliminated the client’s need to coordinate multiple vendors, covering all phases from project planning to final delivery. This end-to-end service included critical initial steps such as the preparation and encapsulation of the work area to prevent any potential contamination to other food processing areas, followed by the specialized disassembly and dismantling of the machinery (handled by our sister company, Fisch & Fisch Mexico), expert packing, and consolidation of the freight into a 53ft box trailer and onto the lowboy carrying the oversized cargo. We managed the entire process, including door-to-door transportation.

The challenge was significant due to the scale and nature of the cargo. The shipment involved the relocation of industrial machinery, specifically a rotary blowing wheel for a molding system measuring 5.40 x 3.00 x 3.97m. Our operational team orchestrated the complex land transport from the client’s facility in Irapuato, Guanajuato, Mexico, to York in Pennsylvania, USA. Our combined expertise in customs procedures was essential for the seamless cross-border transit through the busy Nuevo Laredo / Laredo, Texas corridor.”

The successful delivery of this project to the client’s plant underscores the combined strength of Soulistic Group Herz and Fisch & Fisch Mexico in delivering comprehensive logistics solutions for the most demanding and oversized cargo. By leveraging their specialised equipment and their teams’ deep operational knowledge, particularly in managing sensitive industrial environments, they ensured the machinery arrived safely and on schedule.

The achievement is a testament to the dedication of both Soulistic Group Herz and Fisch & Fisch Mexico in providing robust freight forwarding services, especially for high-value industrial movements.

“We look forward to continuing to serve as reliable partners in the specialized freight industry.”

Shining Handle Crawler Excavator from China to Benin

Shining Supply Chain Management have successfully handled a RORO shipment of a crawler excavator from Taicang in China to the Port of Cotonou, Benin.

> Due to the heavy weight of the cargo, breakbulk shipping could have caused damage during the lifting operations. In addition, breakbulk vessels did not have suitable schedules, making it hard to meet the required on-time delivery.
> Therefore, after comprehensive evaluation, Shining opted for RORO shipping as the most cost-effective and time-efficient solution. This method allowed the vehicle to roll on and off the vessel directly, which significantly reduced loading and unloading time while ensuring high safety standards. Furthermore, the stable shipping schedule facilitated a precise delivery plan for the client.

Another example of Shining's expertise in providing RORO services to West Africa, ensuring that cargo transportation is safe, economical, and efficient.

Spark Global Logistics Report Complex Breakbulk Move from Europe to Tasmania

Spark Global Logistics in Australia are pleased to report a recent breakbulk move from Europe to Tasmania.

The scope involved a large over-dimensional and heavy unit plus parts, ancillaries and other OOG units to be moved end-to-end and all together for a very important water plant in Tasmania.

Sebastian Laffont (Projects & Sales Manager at Spark Global Logistics) explained that the first challenge was to transport the high-value cargo to the port on main roads with a unit at almost 4m wide and over 35tn. With heavy restrictions to move the OOG cargo, the route also included difficult narrow roads.

With not many breakbulk or RORO options, the solution was to load the cargo across flat-racks on deck on a container vessel to Australia.

The next challenge was unloading the cargo at the discharge port, moving it onto trailers, and loading it onto a barge to deliver to Tasmania. Again, all cargo was required to be moved together which limited the options.

On arrival in Tasmania, the unloading and delivery (pictured in the gallery below) was handled spotlessly with all the cargo in perfect condition. The customs processes were also cleared before the cargo arrived in Australia with no extra cost, no inspections, and no BSMB issues.

Spark Global Logistics demonstrated their expertise and experience in handling complex cargo movements with a difficult task delivered on time and on budget.

Shining in China Report Shipments of Steel Rebars to Gabon

The shipments sailed from Lianyungang directly to Owendo and the long shipping journeys were handled with great care, ensuring the cargo arrived safely and on time.

Key highlights of the project included:

- Seamless coordination of port ground operations,
- End-to-end command of the supply chain,
- Ensuring timely deliveries.

As a truly global network, the World Cup is always a special time for our members, bringing together different countries, cultures, and passions through a shared love of football.

Whether cheering for your home nation, supporting colleagues and friends from around the world, or simply enjoying the excitement of the tournament, it is a fantastic opportunity to strengthen the camaraderie and international spirit that makes our network so unique.

Our resident football fan at the CC Head Office, Sam Wilcox, will be updating our World Cup Wallchart throughout the tournament, giving Members the option to print it for their office walls or follow it digitally anytime.

Sam is also a lifetime supporter of West Ham United F.C. who were sadly relegated recently, so let's all support him with this exciting few weeks coming up! We hope it adds a little extra fun, friendly rivalry, and conversation across our worldwide community during the tournament.
